AN OPPORTUNITY.

While it may be true that every foot of property within a radius of a hundred miles of Los Angeles is a good investment, yet one must admit that it is prudent to buy where conditions are best, and the demand most active.

Now that the sky has cleared, and we know that we are to remain an incorporated city, it is well to forget all that was said in the little measly baits that were cast about among the voters, doing untold harm to our fair city and blockading every line of business; and to view things as they really are. There is a demand for homes in Glendale! None can gainsay the truth of this statement, not even those voters who persisted and continued against progress. To them, by the natural laws of compensation, will come the fruits only of what they have sown, for misery and poverty always stay with those who help and assist robbers to rob. We have not been robbed of Glendale, and it behooves us now to bring about in the minds of the easily-influenced forgetfulness of the late unpleasantness caused by the cackling of a few disgruntled malcontents who shouted disincorporation (perish the thought) for purely selfish purposes. Such men are unfit for prosperity and will find themselves bankrupt as regards reputation at least.

The present demand for homes and home sites comes about now in the most natural way in the world, and is it not about time for the kickers to sit up and take notice? To realize that the irrepressible growth of our town cannot be suppressed under the pressure of one or two thumbs?

There is no more beautiful residence spot in all Southern California than Glendale. Queen of the Valley, she sits where are the most wonderful vistas of historic old San Fernando Valley, where views of the mountains are unsurpassed, where altitude and climate combine to make this the most pleasing, most desirable home-spot of the very highest character. There are no duplicates to Glendale! What's more, we know it. Others are learning it! Free and independent, we can take advantage of our nearness to the city by offering lovely suburban homes to those who must spend the hours of labor down in the maelstrom of the city's turmoil.

Our growth has become sound, and our future prosperity is assured. Under present circumstances it could not be otherwise. Note that improvements are going on apace. Our new post office is completed, and it's a beauty. Many fine homes have just been built; and contracts are let for several more to be started at once. Streets are being improved in first-class manner under city ordinances. Numerous families are moving in. The jackrabbits that formerly sported about unfrequented spots have taken to the "bush." They have gone to stay!

Ours is not a mushroom growth! If the few who still persist in so believing would leave their easy chairs and look about them with seeing eyes their old-fashioned megrims would vanish like all other vapors. The substantiality of our growth is here to look upon—it's not on paper by any means, nor in the imaginative brains of real estate dealers, etc.

Strangers, remembering the typhoid-germinal water in the home town back east, anxiously ask about the water. God never made the water more pure and sparkling than that which fills our reservoirs fresh and cold from the mountains back of us. And the supply is always plentiful for all purposes.

Figure for yourself the appreciation in values that will of necessity follow this growth of Glendale. If ever there was a time to secure a location for a home in a town so attractive in appearance; so picturesque in its surroundings; so particularly home-like and inviting; it is here and now, before the tide of public favor becomes even stronger and a regular boom sets in.

What we need is several good rooming houses and flats, as well as comfortable houses for rent. Quite a number of such houses could be filled immediately if they were available. People eagerly seeking such accommodations are daily turned away. This condition ought not to exist. Our nearness to the city demands housekeeping apartments, especially in the winter, when Los Angeles overflows. We cannot impress strangers unless they come to us. They will not come when we cannot house them. Now is your opportunity to build! Prosperity smiles upon us! Watch us grow! (If you like, hear us crow). Our late unpleasantness was nothing but a flash in the pan. Pay no attention to it. All we are asking is a fair and a square chance, and we are going to get it.

UP AND DOING.

Burbank Citizens Use Influence to Elect Harper Mayor.

The result of the recent city election in Los Angeles has developed the fact that principles of right will prevail in spite of the scheming and trickery of the professional politicians.

Harper, Democrat, elected mayor, has been opposed to the schemes of Mulholland and his gang to take the water from the well owners of this valley, and knowing this, J. D. Radcliff, Ed. and Chas. Fisher of Burbank, and Myron Griswold of Tropic, spent several days among the commission men and on the Los Angeles city market working for Harper. The work of these men among their friends and the business men with whom the ranchers of the valley spend much money, is conceded to have been one of the main factors in the election of Mr. Harper. This successful result should still further encourage the ranchers to put forth greater efforts in the same direction. The defeat of Judge Gibbs was wholly due to the opposition of this paper and the people of the valley. When the politicians of Los Angeles learn that the outlying districts will not meekly submit to their dirty methods of foisting any and every thing upon them then there will be some hope for the hard-working, honest residents of the country districts to get justice.

SOME VALUABLE RELICS.

Mr. M. M. Eshelman has in his possession a most interesting relic of great age and value, a German Bible which is about 200 years old. It was published in Basle, Switzerland, in 1720. The quaint old clasps which formerly held the heavy covers together are gone, otherwise the book is in a remarkable state of preservation. Even the letter on the embossed leather covering the board covers is plainly distinguishable. The paper employed is soft and thick and very firm, while the print is large and most remarkably clear. Beneath many of the verses are literal translations by Martin Luther, and these are very beautiful and fine.

The Bible was given to Mr. Eshelman about 30 years ago by an old gentleman 89 years of age, living in Illinois.

Another possession highly prized is a cane of white thorn given to its present owner by an officer on the old Baltimore and Ohio R. R.

This he had cut from the same battle-field on which Mr. Eshelman lost his right thumb, at Antietam in 1862. Embedded in the root, now used as the head of the cane, is a minie ball.

This was given to Mr. Eshelman at Harper's Ferry. On his way home, he stopped at Chicago and visited the Libby prison, which had been moved there as a museum for relics of the war. The manager then and there offered $75 for the cane, but of course his offer was refused.

NO RIPARIAN RIGHT AGAINST PUMPS.

An important suit, having to do with the matter of irrigation and of large importance to Southern California and all other sections where the matter of a water supply for the growing of crops is a factor, was decided by Judge Munroe in the Superior Court on December 6. The gist of the court's decision was that an owner of land is entitled to sink wells and pump water from beneath his own land for necessary purposes, regardless of how the pumping out of the supply of water may affect others.

The suit was brought by Mrs. Victoria Hudson against a large number of farmers residing between La Puente and Spadra, in this county, in which the plaintiff prayed for an injunction against the defendants to restrain them from pumping the water from beneath their land and thus depriving her of a water supply on her own lands. Mrs. Hudson recited that she was the owner of a large tract of land located on a lower level than that of the defendants and that the latter, by drawing water from the ground, destroyed her own supply. Her petition was based upon riparian rights. The court denied the injunction.

TRUSTEES' MEETING.

Board met December 12, all members being present. Minutes of the previous meeting read and approved.

Petition to establish grade on E street granted and the city engineer instructed to recommend grade, etc.

Petition to do work on H street was on motion granted, subject to the supervision of the street superintendent and under his control.

Application to do street work by private contract of O. W. Hanson was on motion granted.

The city attorney reported formally on the bond of the Interurban Railway Co. On motion it was accepted and the bond approved.

The proposition to change the curb line on south Second street was referred to a committee of the whole to meet at 9 a.m. Thursday.

On motion, the bids for the improvement of Fourth street and Glendale avenue were opened, examined and publicly declared.

Five bids were put in and, on motion, were referred to the public works committee in conjunction with the city engineer and attorney to report at next meeting.

On motion, adjourned to meet at 2 p. m. next Monday.

GLENDALE BOYS WIN HONORS.

Cover Melrose, Ray Goode and Edwin Adams, who graduated at the Glendale High School this year, are attending school at the University of Southern California, and all three have been chosen as members of the freshmen basketball team. Melrose being captain. They played the sophomores of that school Thursday and defeated them by a score of 25 to 2.

CLUB NOTES.

Notwithstanding very inclement weather, the Tuesday Afternoon Club held a most interesting meeting in the Library Room, December 11th. At half after two Mrs. Edgar W. Pack called the meeting to order. Under "Wayside Notes" Mrs. Mae Church read some interesting things on President Roosevelt's attitude toward the Japanese question. Mrs. Lillian S. Wells and James A. Wells, Jr., were appointed delegates to represent our branch of the California Traveling Library Association, which meets January 3rd and 4th in Redlands. Mrs. Wells was honored with a request from the association to preside over the Traveling Library Department. She is well informed upon that subject, and has done such representative work during the past few months.

Recognition was accorded Master James Wells for his accurate, faithful work for our local library since its establishment; for his regular attendance and assistance during library hours, and above all, for his unfailing courtesy toward all. The club is proud and glad to send him as a representative of the new library.

Mrs. Robert Blackburn, having charge of the "Art Department," took up the program of the day and introduced Mrs. George I. Sinebaugh, chairman of the art committee of the Los Angeles District of Federated Clubs; and Miss C. A. Wadleigh, chairman of the program committee of the Ruskin Art Club, who has recently returned from abroad.

Mrs. Sinebaugh opened her remarks by saying that every one in the world who coveted culture studied art, that they might come with some understanding in touch with a few of the works of the masters of art. She explained why the exceptionally good collection of pictures, loaned to the Federation, had failed to arrive in Glendale on time. Through some mistake the case had been sent to Los Angeles to the freight, instead of to the express office. Miss Wadleigh took up the thread of the discourse and explained and described the pictures which should have been there, and their artists, saying also that Glendale had been the first to call for the collection.

Her descriptions showed thorough study and knowledge of her topic and she inspired a love for art for art's sake. The pictures can be seen at the Ruskin Art Club on the 2nd of January.

She noted especially the work of Benjamin Brown, and his success as a painter of sunshine and poppy-fields. The Ebell Club has purchased three of his water colors for their new club house.

She spoke also of the beauty of the figures by Kustin, painted since his return from Paris, of the wonderful technique and tone-thoughts of the deaf-mute artist, Granville Redmond. Mr. Sinclair, Whitoff, Borg and others were discussed. At the close of her remarks, the lady was accorded a standing vote by the members of the club. Mrs. Blackburn, assisted by Mrs. Eugene Pitcher, served tea and cakes. The tables were very dainty with drawn-work lunch cloths and glowing poinsettias. Mrs. C. B. Guenthardt very gracefully presided at the tea urn. For the occasion the room had been beautified with pepper-boughs and blossoms by the flower committee. The next meeting will occur on Friday, the 28th, as club day falls on Christmas. Mrs. Edgar Pack and Mrs. C. B. Guenthardt will have the afternoon in charge, which speaks for its success. An effort will be made to make the many new members feel especially at home.

MRS. EMERY AND MRS. BRYANT ENTERTAIN.

One of the jolliest of the holiday dinners in local circles was given on Thanksgiving Day by Mrs. E. U. Emery, assisted by Mrs. Dr. Bryant, at her home on J street.

The long table was lovely with decorations of wheat and flowers and elaborate fruit pieces. At either end reposed (for a while) a daintily browned turkey and seasonable accompaniments. It was a course dinner and covers were laid for twenty-four. When more was a physical impossibility, several of the party combined in a climb up the Verdugo hills. In the evening Mr. Goss brought out his beloved fiddle and shook out the tunes that sent the party through the steps of the Old Virginia reel and other old-time jolly figures.

Three years ago Dr. and Mrs. Bryant and the twins had Thanksgiving dinner here alone, comparative strangers. But relatives have answered the call of California (and incidentally that of the doctor) until such a family reunion as the dinner just given was possible. Those relatives who have found Glendale the best spot on earth are as follows: R. D. Goss, wife and son, William; Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Ferguson, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Burkit and son; Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Smith and son, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Goss, Minn.; and Miss Moessner, Iowa. A fine picture was taken of this family group.

SILVER WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Hopkins of Central avenue, Burbank, celebrated their silver wedding Friday, November 30. The Thanksgiving feast, so bountifully prepared, was served upon that occasion. The guests consisted only of relatives, and included Mr. and Mrs. D. Griswold and family and M. A. Griswold of Tropico.

Among other presents received were a silver tea set and a silver mounted carving set. Mr. Hopkins also presented his wife with a gold wedding ring to replace the one lost in the intervening years.

M. G. VERDUGO ASKS FOR SALOON LICENSE FOR VERDUGO CANYON.

Glendale is certainly going through fiery ordeals at this time and as if our own troubles are not sufficient, now comes a petition from a nearby section for a retail liquor license. M. G. Verdugo makes application, and if he succeeds in securing a license his saloon will be located on the Crescenta and Canada road, near Verdugo Park, in Verdugo Canyon.

Mr. Verdugo will find that the people of Glendale, Crescenta and Canada will not stand for a saloon, and especially at the proposed location. We do not know of any reason why a saloon license should be granted for such a place as Mr. Verdugo proposes to conduct as his place, would in all probability be nothing more than a road house dive. There can be no possible excuse for granting of a liquor license in this section at this time, and a very strong delegation of our most representative citizens should appear before the Board of Supervisors when the hearing on this petition is given and make a vigorous protest against the granting of any such permit.

The date of the hearing of this petition is set for December 31st and our people should lose no time in getting together and make arrangements for appearing before the Board in such manner as to leave no doubt as to the sentiment of our people regarding this matter. Glendale citizens had about concluded that the limit was reached when King succeeded in bringing about disincorporation proceedings, but the end is not yet and eternal vigilance on the part of our people is the only way to keep our beautiful little city in the front rank of progression and her skirt clean of the pestiferous trouble-maker and the low dive element. These trouble-makers cannot be charged up to Glendale, however, as one of them lives entirely beyond our city limits and the other one does not have the respect of any of our right-thinking people.

TESTIMONIAL.

We feel that in the death of brother D. R. Beers not only has his family and his church but our entire community sustained a very great loss. I have only known him for a few months, and those were months of preparation for the end. But I desire to say, as his pastor, that even through all his trials, I have never seen a character that was a more perfect exemplification of a perfect faith in God and willingness that His will should be done in all.

W. F. STONE.

Plans and a colored picture showing the front elevation of the proposed Glendale Country Club are on exhibition at the office of Sternberg Bros. & Howe in the Masonic building. All members of the club are requested to inspect the plans and make any suggestions they may think necessary.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES.

The W. F. M. Society met in the Sunday School room of the church last Tuesday and though the meeting was not largely attended it was one of real interest.

Meetings are held at 2 o'clock every second Tuesday of each month in the same place.

Prayer meetings are held every Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The meeting of last Thursday being of unusual interest. Communion services will be held on next Sabbath at 11 o'clock. Members are all expected and strangers cordially invited. Seats in the church are free to all. Young women's and girls' meeting on Sabbath at 2:30 p. m. Young men's and boys' at 3:39 in the Sunday School room. Welcome to every young man and boy.

Miss Nellie Sanborn will be present and address the congregation Sabbath evening at 7:15.

Rev. Geo. R. Graff preached an excellent sermon last Sabbath morning.

Mrs. F. D. Hendershott's class which meets in the pastor's study, gave him a complete surprise on his birthday by placing a beautiful rug on the floor of the study. It is a beauty. Come and see for yourself. Many, many thanks.

On last New Year's day the pastor called on 123 families of his church and congregation and left a New Year's greeting. This year he expects to do better than that as the number of families have greatly increased. A good driver and horse have been spoken for. Look out, he is coming.

Elizabeth De Witt Trowbridge will give an excellent entertainment at I. O. O. F. Hall, December 19th, 1906.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Miss Moore, a teacher in the Alhambra High School, visited the science classes Wednesday forenoon.

Several of the teachers will appear on the program during institute week. The Institute and Teachers Association will be held as usual the week before Christmas.

The freshmen basket ball team defeated the Burbank Grammar School team Wednesday afternoon on the Burbank court. Score 39 to 5.

Mr. Tower visited the Pasadena High School Thursday.

The girls' basket ball team has begun regular practice now. Their league schedule will open shortly after the holidays.

Mr. Zimmer, coach of the Pasadena High School football team, came over Monday to give the boys some points on basket ball. Mr. Zimmer is an excellent coach and succeeding in arousing considerable enthusiasm among the boys.

Mr. and Mrs. Tower spent Saturday and Sunday in Los Angeles as the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis, former college friends.

Murphy and other things conspired to administer a second defeat to the high school basket ball team Saturday last in a game with the Pasadena High School. The score was decidedly lopsided.

The new cases are now complete in the library and we now possess one of the neatest little high school libraries in the county.

AGED PIONEER PASSES AWAY.

Henry M. Fisher, one of the old-time settlers of the San Fernando valley, died Sunday morning at his home, where he resided for 30 years. He was born in Zurich, Switzerland, in 1827, coming to America in 1854. He was married in Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1857. He leaves six children, all of whom with their mother are living. They are Mrs. Bertha Spring of Claremont, Herman and August Fischer of Los Angeles, Mrs. Tom Story, Edward and Chas. Fischer of Burbank.

The family came to California in 1875 and located in the San Fernando Valley two years later. Mr. Fischer at once began the active development of his holdings and took a deep interest in the progress of the valley. His long residence in the San Fernando Valley had won a large circle of friends for him. He was 79 years old. Funeral services were conducted at the M. E. church at 11 o'clock on Tuesday by Rev. J. H. Avery. Interment to Grand View Cemetery.

GLENDALE

BY A BIG MAJORITY

Yes it is still Glendale, the Queen of the Valley; Glendale the beautiful, where live an intelligent and progressive people. While the great majority of our people are intelligent and progressive, we will have to admit there are at least two individuals who reside within our corporate limits who are mean enough to do anything in a public way to bring discredit upon the community in which they live, at the same time trying to lay their own shame at the door of decent citizens.

Last Tuesday's election, whereby these two or three individuals sought to bring ruin upon our fair city, resulted in a rebuke to these individuals that should cause them to move out of the community or abide by the emphatic decision as expressed by the prosperous and loyal citizens of Glendale at the polls that day, that they want no further hampering of Glendale's progress by these trouble makers.

M. A. King, the leader of the "renegade gang" claimed that he had 250 votes he could control for disincorporating Glendale, but when the ballots were counted Tuesday evening this "grand leader" was short just 204 votes. Instead of the disincorporationists securing a two-thirds majority, the loyal element scored a victory of nearly 5 to 1.

This decisive expression of the people should suffice to suppress King from further trouble making in Glendale, but it is safe to predict that he will continue to "bob up" until he overtaxes the patience of the public, and the sooner he does this the better it will be for Glendale.

Let our city trustees continue the good work that has been held up for so long and prosecute the upbuilding of Glendale more vigorously than ever before. The people of Glendale are behind you, gentlemen, and so long as you are progressive and fair you will have the support of the big majority—the better element. Here's to you, gentlemen of the board, and don't forget that the eyes of the people of Glendale are upon you and that they stand ready to help you in making of Glendale a city of which no one need be ashamed. And let us all remember that the outside world is watching us and that we must not allow disreputable trouble makers to trifle with the prosperity and morality of Glendale.

EFFICACY OF GLENDALE CLIMATE

Mrs. Dr. Nichols, who, of nervous prostration, has been confined to her bed for more than three years, sends word to the News that during her four months' residence in our city, she has gained over fourteen pounds in weight, has plenty of good blood and can now walk about the house. Having made no change in her mode of living or nursing, Mrs. Nichols ascribes her rapid advance toward health to the pure, bracing atmosphere of the Glendale valley.

The lady adds, that she believes that the odor from the great eucalyptus trees near her home has been very beneficial in giving strength to the nervous system. In appreciation of the same, Mrs. Nichols has mailed us a poem, concerning those same trees, to which we give space in another column.

Mrs. J. W. Erwin has the agency for a custom made corset which she will be pleased to show the ladies of Glendale and vicinity. This corset is guaranteed not to rust or break in a year's wear—replaced if it does either. A guarantee with every garment.

M. E. Church Entertainment.

That matchless entertainer, Elizabeth DeWitt Trowbridge, will make her second appearance before a Glendale audience on Wednesday evening Dec. 19 at I. O. O. F. Hall. Mrs. Trowbridge completely won the admiration of those who heard her on her first appearance here last winter. Mrs. Trowbridge is to appear under auspices of the Ladies-Aid of the M. church and she will be assisted by Messrs. Fred Hezmalhalch, Clarence Peck and Miss Lillian Ward, who will furnish the music for the affair. No one can afford to miss this entertainment as Elizabeth DeWitt Trowbridge is certainly an artist and a star in her profession.

A NOTICE

In the Post Office states that a pocket book containing a large sum of money has been lost.

It's "dollars to doughnuts" that if that man had been a depositor in the Bank of Glendale, he would not even have lost his check book. More than that, it is more dollars to more doughnuts that he finds the bank pretty soon after he finds that or any other money.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION AT PASADENA.

Several from Glendale went on Thursday, December 13th, and Friday, December 14th, to Pasadena to attend the Los Angeles County Sunday School convention, held in the First Congregational Church, South Marengo avenue. The music was under the direction of John Bower of Chicago. "The central thought" for Thursday afternoon was "Raise the Standard," the county president, J. B. McLaughlin, presiding. In the evening the general topic was organization. Key-word: co-operation—concerted action. W. F. Croneailler, chairman, executive committee, presided. Ten superintendents took part in the discussion. At five o'clock the convention supper was served in the basement of the church. Rev. Frank M. Downing acting as toastmaster. Toasts: Rev. E. W. Thornton, "Why Here?" I. J. Reynolds, "That Boy!" Dr. John Willis Baer, "You and Me and the Sunday School."

Friday morning the keyword was "Ingathering." Gall Borden, member international executive committee, presiding. There were so many speakers at this session that many were limited to two minutes.

The afternoon session took for general topic "Adults and Babies; the Sunday School Needs Them." The president-elect presided. A class of children demonstrated new lines of primary work.

On Friday evening Hugh C. Gibson, the general secretary, took the chair, and a song service opened the last session of the convention. Installation of new county officers followed. The closing address was given by the Rev. Hugh K. Walker, D. D. A unique "pop-corn meeting" with the song "God be With You" closed this remarkable convention, the twenty-second one held by the association.

The attention of the convention was called to the first art portfolio prepared in Los Angeles district and consisting of a collection of pictures loaned by artists and to be sent for a day or a week to clubs so desiring. A petition prepared by the Ruskin Art Club, asking for the removal of import duty on works of art, was presented for signature.

Special attention was called to the splendidly organized state library at Sacramento and clubs urged to take advantage of the opportunity of the traveling libraries and study club sets of books sent out from that center.

Under the head of household economics, housekeepers were instructed to help the enforcement of the pure food law by refusing to buy all foods containing injurious or adulterant substances. The compulsory label must tell the truth.

One of the strongest papers of the convention was that by Mrs. Bauerhyte on "Woman's Need for Woman" in jails, prisons, detention-homes and other public institutions containing women. Great stress was laid upon right training and influences in these places and it was emphasized that the girls and women should be taught cooking and sewing. The inadequate conveniences at the county farm and poor house was mentioned. The University of California at Berkeley is one of the only two co-educational institutions in this country without a woman dean. Systematic effort at advancement along these lines was emphasized.

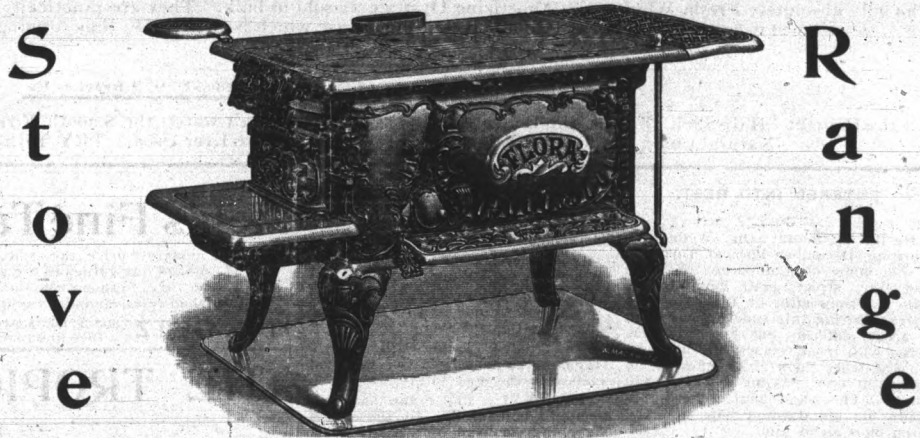

Interesting points were brought out in the paper, "Women on School Boards." In Los Angeles, where one-half of the pupils are girls and eleven-twelfths of the teachers are women there have been no women employed in school offices for eleven years and only two previous to that, although there is legally no difference between the eligibility of the sexes. In 1860 women were first elected on school boards in Boston. Colorado has twenty-one women to thirty-six men as county superintendents and the chairman of the Denver school board is a woman. England enacted the law giving women franchise on school matters in 1870. In London Thomas Huxley resigned after many years' service on the school board in favor of women.

One of the most practically interesting talks was that on civics by Mrs. Rodman, who has prepared in pamphlet form a compilation of California laws relating to women and children. The work of the committee on civics embraces such subjects as outdoor art, home gardens, juvenile courts, better roads and boulevards and many other subjects looking after the beauty and well-being of outdoor life. Public school gardens have received considerable attention in Los Angeles and money for conducting them has been generously contributed by the merchants and manufacturers' association. Public playgrounds is a subject being much agitated by this committee. That penetrating and distinguished student of human nature, Jacob Riis, said to Mrs. Rodman: "Where there is a public school there is need for a public playground." An active crusade against billboards is now in progress and the public press is agitating the question. A petition to the council of Los Angeles asking for the abolition of this nuisance was presented to the convention and unanimously supported.

Mrs. Mary S. Caswell, principal of an up-possessing 'school' discussed the mother's responsibilities. Mrs. Caswell made it most deplorably clear that mothers do not show the interest and sympathy in the welfare of their daughters that they should and that they often allow the most trivial and frivolous causes to interfere with the discharge of their duties.

Mrs. Mary Coman brought to the consideration of the convention the appallingly large number of young people, between the ages of eight and twenty-three years, who frequent cheap Sunday shows of all kinds. The injurious influences of these inferior vaudeville performances upon the impressionable minds of the children who are to be our men and women of the future is most serious. A resolution was presented and adopted by the federation asking the Los Angeles city council to pass an ordinance prohibiting children, under fourteen, from attending these Sunday performances, unaccompanied by parents or guardians. A representative of the Humane Society stated that that society would enforce the ordinance if passed.

On Wednesday night Mr. Owen Lovejoy, assistant secretary national child labor committee, gave vital facts and statistics upon this subject, which is claiming the attention of legislators in many states, in a number of which prohibitory bills have been enacted. And later this crying need was again feelingly handled by Mrs. Stephens who stated that 41 permits had been granted in Los Angeles to children under fourteen years of age to become wage earners. The Chicago Woman's Club has paid $25,000 to help educate and take care of such children. Another club raised $1000 for the same purpose. The educational committee of the federation was urged to raise funds to provide maintenance and education for such children and those dependent upon their wages. The Glendale delegate suggested that while this was most desirable as a temporary expedient the aim should be toward securing laws providing for public institutions to meet the needs of such cases.

An interesting closing feature was the presentation of the newly elected officers. Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, the president, is a woman of well developed head and heart and fine executive qualifications, which insures a successful year's work along the progressive and humanitarian lines chosen. GLENDALE DELEGATE.

THE PRIDE OF GLENDALE.

BY JULIA NICHOLS.

Away from busy city's throng
I stray to hear inspiring song
Of sky and mountain, brook and tree—
The friends that sweetly sing to me.

Sing of the fairest land of earth—
Here, where Dame Nature's crown has birth;
And of its jewels, none there be
Of praise, more worthy than the tree!

Then let us prize our stately trees,
For where more kindly friend than these—
Whose restless fingers point to health
The major note of Glendale's wealth.

Prize and protect our grand old trees,
And bid them smile how'er they please;
That they may live and still wave on
When we, who love them now, are gone!

Let coming generations know
We learned their worth and bade them grow,
To thrive and join, from age to age,
The glories of the Sunset Page!

Live on, sing on majestic trees,
Embracing cooling ocean's breeze,
And kissing fadeless summer skies,
Make fair Glendale a Paradise!

ENTERED INTO REST.

Devillo R. Beers: On Wednesday morning, December 12th, at 8 o'clock, at his home on the corner of Third and Mary street, death came to Devillo R. Beers after an illness of two years. During this time he had been a great sufferer, but his pain was borne with most remarkable fortitude. He was truly cheerful in suffering, no complaint ever passing his lips, and words of cheer and comfort were ever ready for his devoted wife and the loved ones about him.

Mr. Beers was born May 30th, 1870, in Wayne County, Penn. With his parents he moved to Missouri the fall after he was four years of age, where he spent his childhood and received his education.

On December 27th, 1893, he was married to Miss Dollie Bourn. Eighteen years ago he united with the Baptist church in Pleasant Grove, Linn county, Mo. In 1897 he came to Glendale and for the past nine years this place has been his home.

Nearly four years ago they lost their infant son, and this loss seemed to inflict a blow from which they could not recover.

One year ago Mr. Beers was taken to the home of his parents, having been told he had two days to live. He was willing to answer the summons, and contemplated the sundering of earthly ties with calm fearlessness and preparation. His recuperation was entirely unexpected.

For the last three months the couple has occupied the recently completed home in which they took much pride. On Thanksgiving Day a family reunion and dinner was held there; when every relative was present to spend the day with the loved one whom they knew was passing away, even though he presided so cheerfully and happily at the feast. It was a day, the memory of which will be cherished while life lasts among his dear ones. The Rev. C. R. Norton, in speaking of his relation with Mr. Beers, said: "He was hopeful ever, suffering cheerfully and with great patience. His honor in his relation to God and man could not be questioned; he went perfectly prepared. There was no murmuring."

Recently, during a visit, Mr. Beers remarked, noting how time had silvered the hair of his comforter, "The gray in your hair tells me, brother, that you will not be long behind."

Of late, the Rev. Mr. Stone has been with him much, and to him the strong and clear character of the patient was ever evident.

Mr. Beers promulgated the scheme of building the new Baptist church, and in its construction he labored beyond his strength.

He leaves behind him a sorrowing and heart-broken wife, who has been his constant companion and loving helpmate. She toiled by his side through days and nights of brave endeavor, her fortitude exhaustless. She has the sympathy of all in her heartache and sense of bitter loss; as has his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Beers; his brother, Roland Beers; and his sister, Mrs. W. H. Reynolds, North Glendale.

Services were conducted at the Baptist church by the Rev. Mr. Stone on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Music was provided by Mrs. Josephine Bryant.

A WORKING PARTY.

A jolly crowd spent last Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Hunt, where a working party was given. Each guest was provided with a box and when opened the ladies found they had to learn the art of wood carving while the gentlemen afforded much amusement in their attempts to dress the dolls found in their boxes. Mr. Henry Luttrell succeeded in most pleasing the judges and Mr. E. H. Learned received consolation prize. Mrs. Luttrell captured the first prize with a fancy ship, and Mrs. Learned the consolation prize. The balance of the evening was pleasantly spent in games. Mr. E. H. Learned and Gladys Myers won the first prize in a nut game, after which refreshments were enjoyed. Every one voted it "the best time ever." Among those present were Mrs. Learned, Mrs. Luttrell, Mrs. Van Horn, Misses Luttrell, Kughen, Riddell, Purrier and Cora and Gladys Myers, Messrs.
